relative on the father's side. We extend sympathies to the bereaved relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Olds came down couple of weeks ago, and he expects to go on the road in a short time.

Miss Bonnie Copeland was an east-bound passenger Thursday night, going to Indian-regret to have her leave and sincerely hope that she will conclude to make this her home in the future.

RILEY'S FIRST HIT.

Wrote a Poem "by Poe" and Palmed
It on the Public.

James Whitcomb Riley began his career in a newspaper office in Anderson, Ind., by writing humorous rhymes as "advertising locals"—"doggerel" he called them. At the same time he wrote many rhymes with the serious intention of having them, if possible, recognized as poems. But he could not get them published. Even compositions whose worth he had tested—those that "would please people when I'd stand up and read 'em to them"—would be returned promptly by every magazine to which he offered them for publication. The Hoosier dialect was too "low down" for the average magazine editor.

Finally in a freak of boyish indignation, to prove that what editors really wanted was not originality, but imitation, he devised the scheme of writing a poem in imitation of Poe and of palming it off on the public as a real poem of Poe's recently discovered. The scheme was very skillfully planned and very deftly executed and successful beyond anything the clever devisor of it had ever dreamed. From one end of the country to the other "Leonahle" was hailed as a veritable "find," a bit of genius' most genuine ore. Riley had his revenge. He had some trouble, however, in proving that he was not an intentional forger.

He lost his newspaper position, but he immediately got another and better one on the Indianapolis Journal. "Come and get pay for your work," said Judge Marland, the editor. The turn in the tide had come.

A BORN SOLDIER.

Major General Stuart, the Dashing Cavalry Leader.

Major General J. E. B. Stuart of the Confederate cavalry was a soldier by nature. Dashing and daring, cool in the face of danger, he was one of the brave and picturesque figures of the civil war. H. B. McClellan quotes in "Life and Campaigns of Major General Stuart" from General Fitz-Hugh Lee's impression of the future cavalry leader while he was still at West Point:

"I recall his distinguishing characteristics, which were strict attention to military duty; erect, soldierly bearing; immediate and almost thankful acceptance of a challenge to fight from any cadet who might feel himself in any way aggrieved and a clear, ringing voice."

Stuart was a most cheerful soldier.
That "clear" voice of his was often used in singing his favorite war song:

If you want to have a good time, Join the cavalry.

His courageous attitude was held until the very end. He was wounded by a pistol on the battlefield. As he was being carried away he noticed the disorganized ranks of his retreating men.

"Go back!" he called out. "Go back!
Do your duty as I have done mine!
Go back! I'd rather die than be whipped!"

Those were his last words on the field of battle. Later he said, with the same courage:

"I'm going fast now. God's will be done."

Sheridan on being asked how we came to call Gibbon "luminous," answered, "I said 'vo-luminous.'"

Why Indiana's Governor Hates The Liquor Traffic.

By J. FRANK HANLY, Governor of Indiana.

PERSONALLY I have seen so much of the evils of the liquor traffic in the last four years, so much of its economic waste, so much of its physical ruin, so much of its mental blight, so much of its tears and heartache, that I have come to regard the business as one that must be held and controlled by STRONG AND EFFECTIVE LAWS.

I bear no malice toward those engaged in the business, but I hate the traffic. I hate its every phase. I hate it for its intolerance. I hate it for its arrogance. I hate it for its hypocrisy. I hate it for its cant and craft and false pretenses.

I HATE IT FOR ITS COMMERCIALISM. I HATE IT FOR ITS GREED AND AVARICE. I HATE IT FOR ITS SORDID LOVE OF GAIN AT ANY PRICE. I HATE IT FOR ITS DOMINATION IN POLI-TICS. I HATE IT FOR ITS CORRUPTING INFLUENCE IN CIVIC AF-FAIRS. I HATE IT FOR ITS INCESSANT EFFORT TO DEBAUCH THE SUFFRAGE OF THE COUNTRY, FOR THE COWARDS IT MAKES OF PUBLIC MEN.

I hate it for its utter disregard of law. I hate it for its ruthless trampling of the solemn compacts of state constitutions.

I hate it for THE LOAD IT STRAPS TO LABOR'S BACK, for the palsied hands it gives to toil, for its wounds to genius, for the tragedies of its might have beens. I hate it for the human wrecks it has caused.

I hate it for the almshouses it peoples, for the prisons it fills, for the insanity it begets, for its countless graves in potters' fields. I hate it for the mental ruin it imposes upon its victims, for its spiritual blight, for its moral degradation.

I hate it for THE CRIMES IT HAS COMMITTED. I hate it for the homes it has destroyed. I hate it for the hearts it has broken. I hate it for the malice it has planted in the hearts of men, for its poison, for its bitterness, for the dead sea fruit with which it starves their souls.

I hate it for the GRIEF IT CAUSES WOMANHOOD—the scalding tears, the hopes deferred, the strangled aspirations, its burden of want and care.

I hate it for its HEARTLESS CRUELTY to the aged, the infirm and the helpless, for the shadow it throws upon the lives of children, for its monstrous injustice to blameless little ones.

I hate it as virtue hates vice, as truth hates error, as righteousness hates sin, as justice hates wrong, as liberty hates tyranny, as freedom hates oppression.

I HATE IT AS ABRAHAM LINCOLN HATED SLAVERY. AND, AS HE SOMETIMES SAW IN PROPHETIC VISION THE END OF SLAV-ERY AND THE COMING OF THE TIME WHEN THE SUN SHOULD SHINE AND THE RAIN SHOULD FALL UPON NO SLAVE IN ALL THE REPUBLIC, SO I SOMETIMES SEEM TO SEE THE END OF THIS UNHOLY TRAFFIC. THE COMING OF THE TIME WHEN, IF IT DOES NOT WHOLLY CEASE TO BE, IT SHALL FIND NO SAFE HABITATION ANYWHERE BENEATH OLD GLORY'S STAINLESS STARS.

Does Federal Executive Power Exceed the Czar's?

By Ex-Judge JAMES JAY GORDON of Philadelphia.

THE president of the United States, for whom I entertain warm personal regard and political attachment, for in many respects he is a good Democrat, has said that congress should regulate and control the business of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce, especially the railroads, and should regulate their output of securities.

Yet what man who has any respect for fundamental law believes that there should be left to the federal government A POWER VASTER THAN THE CZAR ENJOYS? If that were done, who could dislodge a party in power, for how much greater than the control of the postal service and the railroads is the control of all business?

THE PROPER POSITION FOR EVERY PATRIOT TO TAKE IS THAT IF THESE THINGS ARE RIGHT TO BE DONE THEY ARE TO BE DONE BY AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Without discussing the need for regulating corporations such usurpation of power might well FRIGHTEN A LIBERTY LOVING PEOPLE. And the danger of it is that good men are promulgating this doctrine. An evil man would be suspected. If we always had a benevolent despot it would be all right to enact such laws. Who can say how long representative democracy would last under such conditions.

This Is the Day of Days For Young Men In Public Life.

By Senator ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE of Indiana.

THE public man elected by any party who is not true to the principles and policies of those who elect him is dishonest, but such a man who does not care for the citizens of the party opposing him as much as for the citizens of his own party is too narrow for twentieth century American public life.

NEVER IN HISTORY WAS THERE SUCH A DAY FOR YOUNG MEN IN PUBLIC LIFE AS THAT WHICH HAS NOW DAWNED.
AMERICAN PUBLIC LIFE IS CRYING ALOUD FOR MEN WHO ARE HONEST, INDUSTRIOUS AND EQUIPPED.

You cannot sit in your clubs and serve the republic. You cannot lock yourselves in your library and solve the nation's problems. You cannot dally in society and perform the country's service.

You must MINGLE WITH ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S PLAIN PEOPLE, and this is not abasement, but exaltation, for at the firesides of the millions dwell the purity and power of the land, and there also abides its hope. You must walk the common earth, whence came Antaeus' strength, and this will not lower you, but will lift you higher still. The LOFTIEST IDEALS spring from the grass roots.

Swiss Naval Wars.

References to the Swiss navy are usually jocular, but it is none the less a fact that ships of war once floated and even fought on the waters of the lake of Geneva. The great fleet was that of the Duke of Savoy, who at the beginning of the fourteenth century maintained a number of war galleys armed with rams and protected by turrets and propelled by a crew of oarsmen varying in number from forty to seventy-two. These vessels besieged Versoix and even blockaded Geneva. But Geneva also had a fleet which helped in the capture of Chillon in 1536, and when the Bernese an-nexed the canton of Vaud they, too, had their flotilla. Their largest vessel was the Great Bear, with 64 oarsmen, 8 guns and 150 fighting men.—Westminster Gazette.
